Child Pornography and the Law in Canada
A New Agenda for the Information Age

Sara M. Smyth

Custom Edition

Learning Solutions
New York  Boston  San Francisco
London  Toronto  Sydney  Tokyo  Singapore  Madrid
Mexico City  Munich  Paris  Cape Town  Hong Kong  Montreal
For my Mother, with love and gratitude, and in loving memory of Leonard James Hallen.
This is how I see it. When I capture their image -- I capture a piece of time that not even their own mommy's will have. They stay young forever, just for us pedos ... The vid cam makes them our eternal slaves. They become our property to do whatever we want too.

-- A 2007 Internet chat-room message written by Canadian child pornography offender Darren Philpott (a.k.a. canuckboylover)

Stated in the most dramatic terms, the accusation can be made that the uncontrolled growth of technology destroys the vital sources of our humanity. It creates a culture without a moral foundation. It undermines certain mental processes and social relations that make human life worth living. Technology, in sum, is both friend and enemy.

-- Neil Postman, Technopoly: The Surrender of Culture to Technology
TABLE OF CONTENTS

CHAPTER ONE – Introduction ........................................... 1

CHAPTER TWO- The Reality of Child Pornography - Separating Fact and Fiction ................. 10

I. What Is Child Pornography and How do we Recognize It? ........................................ 13
II. The Modern History of Child Pornography .......... 16
III. What Kind of Child Pornography is Circulating on the Internet? ................................................................. 31
IV. Who Produces, Distributes and Collects Child Pornography? .................................................. 42
    (a) Pedophiles and Child Pornography .............. 44
    (b) Commercial Child Pornography ............... 51
    (c) Child Pornography and Other Sexual Offences Against Children ....................... 53
V. Conclusion ........................................................... 64

CHAPTER THREE – The Development of Child Pornography Law in Canada .......................... 65

I. History of the Regulation of Child Pornography in Canada ............................................. 67
    (a) The Social Climate Leading Up to the Changes .................................................. 67
    (b) The Badgley and Fraser Committee Reports ...................................................... 80
    (c) The Establishment of a Child Pornography Law – s.163.1 ........................................ 84
II. Conclusion .......................................................... 90
CHAPTER FOUR – Sharpe and Its Aftermath ............... 91

I. The Case of R. v. Sharpe and Subsequent Legislative Developments .......................................... 93
II. Criticism and Controversy Surrounding Child Pornography Law ........................................... 101
III. Child Pornography and the Internet Today: A Decade After Sharpe ....................................... 116
IV. Conclusion ................................................................................................................................. 130

CHAPTER FIVE – A New Agenda for the Information Age .................................................................. 132

I. Inter-Jurisdictional Law Enforcement Efforts ................................................................. 135
   (a) The Importance of International Conventions ................................................................. 135
   (b) Ratification of the Cybercrime Convention: The Need for Lawful Access ................. 146
   (c) The Need for an International Law Enforcement Network ........................................... 155
II. National Law Enforcement Initiatives .............................................................................. 157
III. Education, Awareness and Victim Support ........................................................................ 164
IV. Conclusion ................................................................................................................................. 171

CHAPTER SIX – Conclusion ........................................................................................................ 174

BIBLIOGRAPHY .......................................................................................................................... 180